THE CITY OF THE THOUSAND ISLANDS

BROCKVILLE has been aptly named the "City of the Thousand Islands". These noted "Islands", really commence at Brockville with the Three Sister Islands also a very fine group known as the Brock group, and are all within the confines of the "City Area".

Brockville is internationally known as the "Mecca for holiday makers and tourists," and those desirous of visiting the beautiful district. It is situated on the wooded banks of the St. Lawrence River and from its dock the commodious Canada Steamship Boats make daily trips through the St. Lawrence Rapids and thence on to Montreal. A fast ferry service also operates across the river to Morristown, N.Y. State, from which point the well-known Adirondack Mountains and Lake Placid can be reached.

The wonderful scenic "St. Lawrence Park," with its sandy beach, ideal for children, has been provided for tourists and visitors by the municipality, and anyone may camp, pitch his tent, or rusticate amidst the pines on the river bank.

The Brock group of Islands are easily reached by canoe or motorboat, and other Islands are used as public parks and camp grounds by those seeking rest and quiet, with good fishing in the surrounding waters.

Fast motor boats make daily trips through the Thousand Islands as far as Alexandria Bay, N.Y. State and Gananoque, Canada, and within fifty miles of Brockville there are 1800 Islands where the most beautiful vistas of water, land and sky develop every few yards along the waterways. Palatial homes and castles with magnificent lawns and gardens leave a most pleasing and lasting memory on the visitor's mind.

Conveniently placed on the important motor highway No. 2 it becomes a pivotal point from which the tourist may make trips to Ottawa, the Rideau Lakes, Gananoque, Kingston and west to Toronto, east to Prescott, Cornwall and Montreal. In close proximity to Brockville are the Rideau Lakes, which afford a wonderful trip with good motor roads and accommodation. Charleston Lake near Perth and a group of 23 lakes are within 45 miles.

One of the finest nine-hole Golf Courses in Canada is also within a ten-minute automobile drive from the centre of the city and the beautiful club house is built amidst the beauties of the surrounding country overlooking many of the Islands.

The city is noted for its many beautiful residences and the well-kept and lighted streets. A new palatial hotel catering to the needs of the most discriminating public, overlooks the St. Lawrence River and has accommodation for large conferences and with its banquet hall and ball room offers many attractions. Other hotel accomodations are also highly recommended by the Chamber of Commerce.

As an industrial centre it has steadily improved and it is difficult to find a more ideal location from the viewpoint of many of its manufacturers.
